THE COAL TRADE OF PITTSBURG. - A little work, entitled Pittsburg as it is, has just been issued in that city. Some interesting facts in relation to the coal trade are condensed from this work by the Philadelphia North American.

1st. We give a statement of the coal shipped from the various pools of the Monongahela Slackater Navigation during the last twelve years:

Year.	Bushels.	Year.	Bushels.
1845	4,605,185	1851	12,531,228
1846	7,778,911		14,630,841
1847	9,645,127		15,716,367
1848	9,819,361		17,331,948
1849			22,234.009
1850	12,297,967	1856	8,584,095

The extraordinary diminution in the year 1856 was caused by the river being too low to run coal for two hundred days, or six and a half months, from May 14th to December, and also having closed again in December until February. What Pittsburg suffered from that long drouth may be guessed from this item. Of the coal shipped on this channel of trade as above the greater part was shipped down the river, the proportion being in the year 1855 but 5,933,850 bushels for home use, against 16,300,159 bushels for export, of which latter 5,500,000 bushels were for New Orleans. This is one avenue of the coal trade.

From the first dam on the Monongahela river to the junction of the Chartiers creek with the Ohio coal for home trade and for exportation, and the about 3,000,000 bushels, two-thirds being for excoal works whose yield is conveyed to purchasers by teams, and consumed at home. In 1856, these pits produced 9,385,000 bushels. On the Pennsylvania Railroad the amount of coal carried in the las our years was as follows: Bushels. | Year. 1,425,000 | 1855, 3,375,000 1856. 1854. 6,132,168 The authority from which we quote sums up the coal trade of Pittsburg, for the year 1855, as fol-

Home consumption-in stores, dwellings, and public buildings, 10,855,000 bushels; factories and steamboats, 22,000,000 bushels; three gas works, 350,000 bushels; two water works, 200,000 bushels.

Total 33,405,000 bushels.

Exports - By Ohio river, 16,300,159 bushels; Pennsylvania Railroad, 3,372,000 bushels; Pennsylvania Canal, 560,000 bushels; Cleveland and Pittsburg Railroad, 140,000 bushels. Total, 20,372,159

This shows an aggregate for the whole trade of 53,782,159 bushels Among the avenues now conveying coal to the city are the Pittsburg and Connellsville and Allegheny Valley railroads. On the latter, the coal transported in the year 1856 was 473,050 bushels. The other road only commenced the coal business in the present year. As the bushel measurement of coal is unfamiliar here, we would state for the information of our readers that the entire aggregate above is reducible to 2,151,326 tons. This is not for the present year, but for the best of former ones. In 1857 it is estimated that the coal trade will run up to 2,469,000 tons.

[For the Louisville Bulletin.] LEILLIA LEE.

A BALLAD. "Leillia, give me thy lady-like hand, So pure in its delicate glow, And let this circlet of glittering pearls Grow dim on its dainty snow. "Bind up the lengths of thy floating hair With this clasping of opal bloom, For the Earl loves not to see thy charms Thus marred by its midnight gloom "And let this draping of snowy lace Lightly shadow thy bosom's glow, As the cloud-dissolving beams of day But soften the hues below.

"For the Earl is coming, with lordly train, In the pomp of ancestral pride, To take thee, a fair yet portionless maid, For his bright—his bonnie bride.

"Then deck thy form in these peerless gems, They would dazzle an eastern quee Rubies and pearls, like the sunset clouds With moonlight glancing between

"Baronies broad and grand you will have Whose trees are a century old— Where many years the shadows have slept And the sunbeams dropped their gold.

"Rank as the wife of a titled Farl-Who will dress thee in robes so fine, While kingly lips thy beauty will pledge In the gold and crimson wine.'

The earth is bright and gushing with song And the sky is as fair to see – Then why doth she sit with drooping head? What aileth sweet Leillia Lee?

Then starting as one in sudden fear, Her ripe lips blanched to deadly white-She gazes around with stony eyes That seem as they had no sight.

"Oh Mother! but take this jewelled band, It clasps my brow with maddening pain. Closer still close like a serpent's coil Round my throbbing, aching brain.

"This bridal veil in its misty flow-Though as light as the sun-kissed air-Weighs me down with a horrible weight—
I cannot breathe with it there.

"These gems, this robe, this hated ring_ The price of gilded misery—
I fling them back in my maiden scorn— I'm free, once more I am free.

"For why should I wed this cold, proud Earl, I care not for houses or land— I'm richer than he with all his gold— I'm rich in a heart and hand

"'Tis but the curse of a beauteous form That has won me this leman's place-I'd rather be slave to the meanest clown Than wife of his lordly Grace.

"What would I do in his lonely halls When the roses were white and red— I'd dream of meadows and clover-blooms And sigh for my home instead.

"Where I could loosen my waving hair Without pearls or a golden comb, And call to the lips I kiss in sleep, I come with my love to roam,

"To roam where the dreamy waters flow In the hush of a twilight moon— Sweet love-words fluttering through our talk Like birds through a rosy June—

"My young heart filled to the brim with joy Whose wand can change every drop of blood To jewels brighter than these

"Then why should I sell my woman's truth For a dowry of gorgeous sin—Though a crown should gleam above my brow The fangs would rankle within,'

"Maiden, remember these tears are vain, And idle these murmuring words, For the Earl will make thy life as gay And bright as a spring-time bird's.

"Then smooth the folds of thy bridal robe"-But she won no other reply Save these wild words from a poor crushed heart, "Oh! I would that I could die." MARY ELLA BATCHELER.

The Philadelphia North American says the States of Tennessee, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, and Mississippi, all of which are traversed by this Charleston and Memphis Railroad, contain together over four millions of inhabitants. They raise that great cotton crop which is considered the most valuable of our staple products, and if Charleston can succeed in getting the sea transportation of that alone it would give her a great impetus on the road to prosperity.

Savannah, too, has long been struggling to reach the Mississippi through the central sections of Georgia, Alabama, and Mississippi, making her western depot Vicksburg. A large portion of that chain of railway is already built, and the rest will be in a few years. Norfolk also has a western project, but it, too, is incomplete. Its line, after leaving Virginia, goes, one branch into Tennessee, and the other into Kentucky, the latter reaching to a point opposite Cincinnati. This latter avenue we find recommended editorially in the Cincinnati Gazette as deserving of attention and encouragement, on the ground that Cincinnati, as the leading centre of business at the West, needs a connection direct with the Southern seaboard. From the progress already made at the South we look for the rapid prosecution of these and many other improvements, the effect of which must inevitably be to raise the importance of the cities of Mobile, Savannah, Charleston, and DEFALCATION IN THE COMMERCIAL BANK, SCOT-Henry Salmon, for forty years connected with the Commercial Bank, Scotland, principally as agent, is announced in the English papers as a defaulter to the amount of £30,000 sterling. He had disappeared from his home, and nothing regarding his whereabouts was known.

Homecide and Sutcide—In this eounty, eight miles from this place, on the night of the 24th, a negro man killed his wife by chopping her head open with an ax while she was asleep in bed, and immediately after hung himself in a tree near the house. THE GREAT RAILROAD CELEBRATION, -Many of our citizens who participated in the railroad celebration at St. Louis have returned, highly delighted with their trip. The excursion from Cincinnati to St. Louis was composed of three trains, each consisting of ten cars. Every train was provided with refreshments. The officers of the company were very attentive throughout the trip. On the arrival of the trains at Illinoistown the guests were provided with supper and lodgings on three or four large steamboats, and also with breakfast in the morning. They were then conducted to St. Louis, where a pro cession was formed, composed of the citizens, military, firemen, and various associations, and the guests in carriages and omnibuses. The procession moved to the fair grounds, where, after toasts and this morning, and return to New Orleans to-morrow speeches, a bountiful repast was partaken of. It is estimated that 10,000 persons were on the grounds and yet there was plenty for all. Among the speakers on the occasion we notice Gen. Pilcher. Nothing occurred to mar the pleasures of the festivities. All who participated express themselves highly gratified.

POWER-LOOM BAGGING .- We have noticed in the receipts by the Cincinnati mailboats, for the last few days, several hundred pieces bagging. It was made at the Globe manufactory at Covington, now the property of Messrs. Martin, Roberts, & Co., of Woodford county, who purchased it last month. The factory is in full operation and turns out 18,000 yards of bagging per week. It is the very best brand of Kentucky bagging. Messrs. A. L. Shotwell & Son are the agents of it in this city, and intend to keep on hand a supply of it.

The Globe is the only power-loom bagging manufactory out of six in the State which has escaped destruction by fire. But Messrs. Hunt & Co. have nearly all the machinery in their new factory in this city arranged, and will soon commence operations. They have had their rope machinery in operation for some time, and have turned out one of the best articles of machine rope made here or anywhere else.

CONFLICT BETWEEN UNCLE SAM AND THE STATE OF KENTUCKY .- A short time since a man named John Beck was enlisted at the Newport barracks while he was intoxicated. A suit was instituted before Judge Nelson, of Campbell co., on Monday last, wherein it was shown that Beck was not only intoxicated when he "listed," but that he was also a married man. This, in the opinion of Judge Nelson, justified him in issuing a writ of habeas corpus for the person of Beck. This writ Lieut. Hendershot refused to notice, and sent out Sergeants Kennedy, Killany, and Leroy to arrest Beck, who was in a coffee-house near the barracks. They undertook to arrest Beck, but he closed the doors on them and sent for his attorney, F. M. Webster, when the sergeats withdrew, fearful of getting into a difficulty.

Warrants were issued for the arrest of the three sergeants. They will be held in bonds for their good behavior when arrested!

SERIOUS RIOT IN WINNEBAGO COUNTY, ILLI-NOIS .- Two Men Killed .- A serious and fatal riot occurred on Thursday at Medina, Winnebago county, between the contractors and laborers on the Racine and Mississippi Railroad. The citizens of the place were required to arm themselves against the rioters in order to quell the disturbance, and during the fight two men were killed-an Irishman and an American-and a number of others more or less injured. At last accounts word had been sent to the sheriff for a posse of men to quell the riot and arrest those engaged in it. The excitement in Medina and vicinity, in consequence of the outbreak, was

The storehouse of George W. Baxter, situated in Furman street, Brooklyn, together with its contents, consisting of 1,598 hogsheads of sugar, 450 barrels of molasses and 200 hides, were totally destroyed by fire about noon on Thursday. The loss is estimated at nearly a quarter of a million of dollars. The fire is believed to have originated by sparks from a laborer's pipe falling upon a bundle of hay.

ARRESTED ON A CHARGE OF MURDER -James Bowes, who was discharged during the late term of the criminal court in this city, was arrested on Saturday night by officers Cross and Litterell, charged with having murdered a man at Algiers, opposite New Orleans. Bowes, after his discharge here, went to New Orleans on a coalboat. The murder was committed about two weeks ago.

THE BURDELL CASE AGAIN .- On Wednesday last, on the application of the counsel of the heirs of Dr. Burdell for a commission, a number of affidavits were read to prove that Mrs. Cunningham was corresponding last fall with a person in California named W. C. Hyde, and that there was an engagement of marriage between them. Said W. C. Hyde had written to his brother, A. F. Hyde, of Owego, N. Y., several times, mentioning the name of Mrs. Cunningham in a way that carried the idea that he was engaged to her. After the murder of Burdell, his brother wrote to him, inquiring if he was engaged to her, and he replied that he was, and that he was glad he had escaped from such a woman. That on the 24th of May two women from New York came to Owego and saw Mr. A. F. Hyde, to whom these letters were written, and took him to New York with them. That previous to their visit, said A. F. Hyde was very communicative on the subject of these letters. That they told him if Mrs. Cunningham got Burdell's property, they were to have $5,000, and they would give him $1,000 to keep these letters from Burdell's heirs. After this they could not get Jan. T. Nichols, anything from him. These facts were sworn by the father and brother of Hyde, and by B. F. Tracy, an attorney. On the other side, the two women and Mrs. Burdell and A. F. Hyde make affidavits denying that the letters contained evidence of an engagement, or that they had offered money to get the letters concealed. The case was continued till the next

Since the above we have received the New York Tribune, of Friday, which says of the testimony taken on the preceding day:

The case of the estate of Dr. Burdell was before the Surrogate yesterday. That Dr. Burdell was in Herkimer the day before the marriage was confirmed by another witness, who said that when he left Herkimer that day he said he was going to Saratoga. The daughter of Mrs. Cunningham's dress-maker, at whose house she stopped to meet the bridegroom on the evening of the marriage, testified that she had since identified Eckel as the man who called. Several other witnesses were examined as to the Several other witnesses were examined as to the condition of the Doctor's whiskers.

In compliance with a call from several prominent citizens of New Orleans, Gen. Walker addressed them on the evening of the 30th on Nicaragua affairs. The Bulletin gives the following notice of

He spoke some two hours, principally in defense of himself, and against the policy of our Government and that of the British toward Nicaragua. He said the whole secret of the opposition of Great Britain and of the North to his success in Central America, was slavery, which institution he defended at some length. He was pretty severe upon the Pierce and Marry administration and the steambest companies. Marcy administration, and the steamboat companies and expressed his unbounded astonishment at the iduct of Capt. Davis, to whom he had been compelled to capitulate, for expressing his determination not to permit the Nicaraguan schooner Granada to leave its berth, thereby interfering with the affairs of an independent State. He appealed from the officers of the Government to the people, to assist him in making another effort to regain his authority in Central America. The General's voice was heard only at a short distance, and the cheering was by no means enthusia-tic. The great majority were evi-dently attracted thither through curiosity. The peaker looks more like a quiet, respectable preacher han a fierce fillibuster.

COMMUTED .- The negro man Henry, condemned to be hung for a murderous assault upon Merit Cunningham, Esq., of this county, was conveyed to Frankfort last Thursday, the Governor having commuted his punishment to imprisonment for life. The sheriff was too shrewd to take him through Salvisa as it was very certain that the negro wo have seen Frankfort if he had gone in that direction have seen rankort if he had gone in that direction.

A feeling of general indignation seems to pervade the entire community; and at the time of our writing this paragraph (12 o'clock, Friday,) preparations are being made, we understand, to hang Gov. Morehead in effigy.—Ky. Exchange.

ARRESTED.—A young man by the name of Hunter, confidential clerk of one of the Hamiltons in New Orleans, was arrested yesterday morning on the steamer Rainbow for stealing $5,000 from his employer. He was fined $5 in each case, amounting with the costs to the comfortable sum of $38 60. Benjamin planked the money up forthwith, and vowed that "de poys should not get some more liquor at mine shop." We learn that other parties, who have been engaged in the same nefarious business, will be brought before the Squire in a few days.

The same paper thus notices the aspect of the dry goods trade:

The trade at wholesale has nearly ceased for the season, leaving on hand a large amount of goods imported this Spring unsold, to the depreciation of prices, and to the checking of importations for the Fall.

There are general expectations that prices of goods must fall in the autumn. The price of cotton has evidently reached, if not passed, its maximum, and the appearance of the growing crop is encouraging to consumers, more especially as there has been a greatly extended planting this season. Wool has fallen and silk shows signs of becoming in good supply in Spain, Italy, and France. The best course is therefore to wait and see what a month or so will develop in the state of the silk crop of Europe, the cotton crop of our Southern States, and the cereal crops of Europe and our Western States, The payments of accounts from the interior are improving. Goods of home manufacture are accumulating, and taking this in connection with the threatening decline of raw cotton, there is no firmness in prices, and a prospective decline in cost and value is anticipated. The clothiers are buying sparingly. All purchases are limited to pressing wants which are few.

PITTSBURG, June 3, P. M. River 4 feet 8 inches and falling. Weather clear

An important political decision has been announced by the British Government in relation to the aland the second and the second and the allegiance of subjects and the duty of the government to afford protection. The doctrine of "once a subject," is abandoned. The case in regard to which the decision is made is that of Mr. Lawless, a merchant of Granada, and a non-combatant in the late Nicaraguan coubles. He was dragged out of his house and shot by the Guatemalans when they took Granda. He was formerly a British subject, but became a naturalized citizen of the United States. His mother applied to the British Government for compensation for the loss of her son's life and property. The reply was that he had renounced his allegiance by becoming a citizen of the United States, and was not entitled to British protection. The decision is stated in a letter from Lord Clarendon. MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 8, 1857.

Everybody remembers the "festivals" of last summer. And of course the same "everybody" will be glad to know that a floral feast, similar in its objects and equally agreeable in its arrangements, will be opened to them on Wednesday. This Maile fete, got up by the ladies of St. John's parish, has for its object the repairing and painting of their church. And in asking the contributions of the citazens of Louisville they are inclined to hope that in the manner they have chosen it may be as pleasant to give as to receive. The Mozart Hall will be for a few nights a place of delightful recreation. Friends may meet and pass an hour in pleasant chat or promenade. Those seeking merely amusement will find it in many ways. There will be delinacies for the palate, music for the ear, and beauty for the eye, the young and lovely of our city making a brilliant and important part of the spectacle. We cornestly commend this coming festival to the notice of our citizens, in the confident hope that their well-known liberality will respond bounteously to the wishes of the ladies engaged in this effort, and enable them to accomplish their laudable object.

Contributions can be sent to Martin & Penton, 96 Fourth street, or to the hall on Wednesday and the days following.

BEEF AND SPECULATORS. - A meeting of the Sutchers and drovers was held in Philadelphia on Monday last for the purpose of devising some means of circumventing speculators in cattle, and reducing the present high prices of meats. One prominent butcher made the following expose of some of the rascalities practiced upon them by speculators:

mscalities practiced upon them by speculators:

"Cattle," he said, "are put upon the scales to be weighed for the butchers in a condition oftentimes dangerous, from the effects of what is known as "stuffing;" this is done by feeding the cattle with corn, satted and wet hay; they are then kept without water until the morning of the sale, when they are allowed to drink so much that the cattle are put in misery. This treatment affects them so much that it is almost impossible to take the paunch from them. The butchers also complain that cattle are sold at more pounds to the live weight than they would make if put upon the scales in an honest condition. Instead of now buying cattle at .5 pounds to the hundred weight, the butchers are compelled to pay for 62 pounds, thus allowing on every bullock weighing 800 pounds 73 pounds more weight to the speculators, amounting at present prices to $9 46."

Another object of the meating war, to are succeed.

Another object of the meeting was to arrange for the calling of a convention of the butchers of all the principal cities for the purpose of forming an association, and to recommend the establishment of a Board of Purchase, under the control of the butchers, to purchase all cattle and sheep from the origimal feeders and graziers, &c. Nothing definite was accomplished, however, owing to the state of the weather, and the meeting was postponed.

SINNERS AMONG CHRISTIANS. - The Central Union Baptist Association of Philadelphia have published an interesting document, which contains the somewhat novel statement that there are but twenty millions of real Christians" in the world. As there are supposed to be some eighty or ninety millions of the various sects of Protestants, to say nothing of the two hundred millions of Catholics, the "Synagogue of Satan" must be supposed by these theologians to be rather numerously represended among professors.

A few days since a very heartrending casualty occurred near Steubenville, Ohio. A Mrs. Lyons, in attempting to rescue her child from the house which was burning, took fire, and both mother and child were destroyed.

A HARD HEAD .- William Farrell, an Irishman was shot during the Washington City riot. A one ounce ball struck him in the head. The ball was mearly cut in two and flattened out by contact with the skull.

A patent has been granted John B. M'Cormick, of Versailles, for improvement in machines for harvesting hemp.

WALKING IN FIRE .- New Dress for Firemen. Some very interesting experiments have recently been made in Paris upon the preservation of firemen from the effects of the flames, the importance of which will be apparent to our Louisville firemen. as well as others. The facts are thus narrated by the New York Post:

their hands amianthus gloves, carried a bar of iron heated to whiteness, some distance, without being compelled to pause, for over three minutes. A fire of straw and small wood was lighted around a casting-boiler, and small wood was lighted around a casting-hoiler, and when it was very hot a fireman, having his head protected by an amianthus hood and a metallic tissue, and bearing a wide shield on his right arm, was placed in it, the fire being kept intensely hot while he remained. For a moment his head was autrounded by the flames, but the shield served to keep it off. He remained in this position ninety seconds, when the heat became unendurable. His pulse rose from seventy-two to one hundred and for hy-two. Another fireman repeated the experiment. protected by amianthus cotton, and remained expo-sed to the direct action of the flames upon his head for three minutes and forty-seven seconds.

In another experiment, two long and high piles of wood and straw were erected, with side openings through which the firemen could escape, if compelled to do so. The four men who were to enter this burning enclosure were covered with a new metallic texture; two wore an amianthus garment over a dress coat of cloth, made incombustible by borax, alum, and phosphate of ammonia; the other two had a double garment of prepared cloth; and each of them had amianthns boots, with a double sole of the same substance. Finally one of them carried a bas-ket upon his shoulders, covered with metallic tissue, in which was placed a child ten years old, dressed kewise in amianthus.

This metallic tissue dress consists of a hood, the edges of which cover the shoulders and left sleeve, the right arm being protected by a shield, and of pantaloons fastened by hooks. Clothed with this armor and the habit of which we have spoken, the armor and the habit of which we have spoken, the fireman can run or steop easily, and can turn readily by placing one knee upon the ground.

The four firemen thus attired penetrated to the centre of the flaming hedges, and walking leisurely, went over it several times. In one minute, however, the child in the basket raised a cry which caused the firmula to retreat precipitately. But it was the fireman to retreat precipitately. But it was found that he had suffered no harm; his skin was fiesh, and his pulse, 84 when he entered, had reached only 96. He could undoubtedly have remained nunch longer had be had not been frighted, from the fact that one of the straps holding the basket to the man's shoulders, having slipped a little, he saw the flames and was afraid of falling. In a few minutes after he was as playful as ever, and experienced no inconvenience whatever. The pulse of the fireman who carried the child rose from 92 to 116.

The other three men were in the fire two minutes and forty-two seconds, and came out without having experienced any further inconvenience than great warmth. Their pulses rose from 88, 84, and 72, to 152, 138, and 124, respectively. The fire was very lost during the entire time. Others of these highly interesting experiments are to follow.

A Good Idea.—An agricultural society up in Vermont offers the following premium: "A beautful sik dress (the color and quality to be optional with the fair recipient) to the maker of the best loaf of hersel—the competitors to be unmarried ladies, and the committee of judges to consist of bachelors and widewers." It is generally thought that bachelors in search of good house-keepers will be on hand at shed agricutural fair.

THE BUSH-FIGHTING ANTI-REVISIONIST.

We have seen in our time many stupid anti-revisionists, but "J.," of Saturday's Balletin, is the Solomon Lob of his family. He has about as much consciousness of the methods of ascertaining truth as he has of solicitude for finding it. He begins his work of puffery of Orrin B. Judd by sneaking no tities of his mendacious pam, hlet. He is so keen in his malice that he prepared two puffs of it. He walked into the office of a respectable publisher, to whom, though not to the author of this, he was a total stranger, and coolly requested the editor to insert one of ger, and coolly requested the editor to insert one of them as an editorial notice next morning. In that attempt he failed.

In the notice which this surprising genius published in the Bulletin of Wednesday, he assumed that a man's opportunities for knowing things are the exact measure of his veracity in detailing them. The most ordinary understanding should know that this is not so. A man's use of his opportunities is a basis for judging of his truthfulness. We doubt whether O. B. Judd's opportunities for knowing facts were any more useful in enabling him to falsify, pervert, and misrepresent everything he touched, after his atsmission from the service of the Bible after his dismission from the service of the Bible Union, than the wicked imagination of his puffer is in enabling him to look with a malicious, perverted eye upon the whole cause of Revision.

Judas Iscariot's opportunities arising from his companionship with the Saviour and his Apostles have not entitled him to the special admiration of the world. And this brings us to the points made in the second brilliant display of O. B. Judd's puffer.

He assumes that because men spoke well of that redoubtable personage when they were deceived as to his character, and before his conduct developed him in his full proportions, they must continue to do so after he has exposed himself. "Verily a Dan-iel has come to judgment." Let us look at this display of truthfulness in a clerical teacher. We may measure this skulker by the use he makes of his opportunities. During the entire ministry of Jesus Christ, Judas was a chosen Apostle. He was in full fellowship with the Apostles in preaching the approaching reign of Heaven, and in turning men from crooked paths to straight ones. He was fully commissioned and was empowered to work miracles. He occupied one of the most confidential positions, for he carried the money contributed to the support of the Saviour and his Apostles. The sun of his last Thursday went down upon him in full communion in the communion of the support of the saviour and his Apostles. with the Apostles.

He joined in the institution of that supper which has been kept every first day of the week since the Day of Pentecost. At sunrise on Friday, Jud.'s Iscariot was known to be a traitor of the worst stamp. Are the confidence reposed in him, the high trusts committed to his keeping, and the counten-ance shown him by the Saviour and the Apostles to ance snown him by the Saviour and the Apostes to debar men from denouncing him for his evil deeds?

According to O. B. Judd's puffer they should do so.
A character called Benedict Arnold sprang up during the American revolution. He obtained high command, and the Commander-in-chief lavished praises upon him. Congress bestowed upon him various testimosing of its payregistion of him. He various testimonials of its appreciation of him. He was rapidly advanced to a Brigadier Generalship, then to a Major Generalship, and was in every way honored, praised, and esteemed as a patriot. Washington wrote to Schuyler in 1775 of Arnold: "the merit of this gentleman is certainly great, and leartily wish that fortune may distinguish him as The ment of this genteman is certainly great, and I heartily wish that fortune may distinguish him as one of her favorites." To Arnold himself, Washington wrote, "it is not in the power of man to command success, but you have done more, you have deserved it." To Joseph Reed, in 1776, Washington writes respecting one of Arnold's deeds, "it exhibits fresh proof of Arnold's ability and perseverance in the midst of difficulties." But all these anteces dents did not prevent Washington in 1780 from writ-ing to President Reed, "Arnold's conduct is so villainously perfidious, that there are no terms which can describe the baseness of his heart. That overru-ling Providence, which has so often and so remarkably interposed in our favor, never manifested itself more conspiculously than in the timely discovery of his horrid design of surrendering the post and garrison of West Point into the hands of the enemy. I confine my remarks to this single act of periday." According to O. B. Judd's fidus Achates, Judas isovice and Bornding Armeld, are to be represented. According to O. B. Judd's fidus Achates, Judas Iscariot and Benedict Arnold are to be reverenced, admired, and confided in as much now that their wickedness is known as they were when their integrity was unsuspected. Has not a Daniel come

Judas Iscariot and Benedict Arnold went to ruin Judas Iscariot and Benedict Arnold went to ruin through their intense love of money, but it never burned into either of their hearts more intensely than into O. B. Judd's. His hatred to W. H. Wyckoff first arose from the refusal of that faithful officer to let him overdraw his salary. In his anger he trumped up a pretended claim for $1,000 upon the Bible Union, for the services of the New York Chronicle. No member of the society had ever dreamed that Judd had any such claim upon the treasury. ed that Judd had any such claim upon the treasury He threatened a suit at law. Spencer Cone and the other members of the society, not wishing, in the infancy of the Bible Union, to be dragged into the courts, although there was positive certainty that O. B. Judd would be non-suited, determined to pay the scandalous bill. But they also resolved that not one dollar of the Bible Union money should be expended upon the vile pretence, and the members paid it by a contribution from their own pockets, Spencer Cone heading the subscription with $250. From that moment Spencer Cone predicted that the Bible Union were to have trouble with O. B. Judd. He is now figuring in another transaction akin to it. When he went to New York a poor, friendless, and helpless young man, he was aided and encouraged by a wealthy and influential Baptist family. He by a weathly and inhuential baptist family, and married one of the daughters of this family, and they assisted in building a meeting house for him, and in making him pastor of a congregation that assembled in that house. He was regularly paid for his services, and, when he resigned the pastorate to become a variety the officers of the church was to become a reviser, the officers of the church were satisfied that they had paid him all that was due to him, and they had every reason to suppose that he also thought his claims all paid.

also thought his claims all paid.

This was some four or five years ago. He has claimed membership in that church ever since, and until recently no one heard of any claim that he had upon the church. Very lately he has made out a bill for upward of six thousand dollars for arrearages due him as pastor, and has sued this Baptist Church for the amount of his bill. He made a proposition to revise Matthew for $1,000. Three chapters of it cost the Rible Lingon nearly four thousand ters of it cost the Bible Union nearly four thousand dollars, or over fifty dollars for each verse; and nearly one chapter of the three was composed of the names of persons. If he could have held on to his contract, and had not been dismissed from the Board of Revisers, he would have made the revision of Matthew cost some ten or fifteen thousand dollars.

And by making inordinate estimates upon labor, or which he has neither contract nor stipulation, he for which he has neither contract nor stipulation, he makes out a great pecuniary distress inflicted upon him. But he was paid every dollar that was due to him and a large amount that he never earned. His puffer speaks of his "sharp complaints" in money matters, but it was not hard for him to make "sharp complaints". complaints" where even a cent is involved. Some years ago, as we have lately learned, in crossing one of the East river ferries, he had a fraction of a cent coming to him in change. As the ferryman could not make the fractional change, he, according to cus-tom, retained the cent. O. B. Judd commenced the most furious abuse of him and kept it up so long that he did not get to the Bible Union Rooms for nearly two hours after he was due there. And for the space of three months he kept up an opprobrious war upon the ferryman about this cent. No one doubts his sharpness where money is concerned. We have many more of O. B. Judd's transactions to cite, but we cannot now spare the space. to cite, but we cannot now spare the space.

These are enough for the present. But we turn to some other matters. The masked champion of O. B. Judd refers to the committee appointed by the Bible Union to investigate the miserable charges made by A. Maclay and O. B. Judd. This committee was composed of as reputable men as are to be found in the United States. They made as searching an investigation as ever was made of anything. They invited A. Maclay and O. B. Judd to come forward and make such charges as they deemed fit, and both of them shrunk from an investigation they had pretended to court. When the report of the committee was made to the Bible Union, although Judd was on his feet for a speech on every proposition before the Bible Union, he made no attack upon that report, and expressly declared he had none to make. That report effectually crushed O. B. Judd into powder, and it is an overwhelming answer to a large part of the pamphlet his malice and revenge have recently issued. Judd's champion, who deserves credit for hiding his name in consider-ation of the work he is engaged in-for of such deeds a man should be ashamed—speaks of the difdeeds a man should be asnamed—speaks of the dif-ference in the contracts with the Immersionist revi-sers and with Pedo-Baptist revisers. Even if there were a shadow of truth in the mendacious state-ment, no one can see how it can help O. B. Judd, or he was a member of the Committee on Versions, and was engaged in making nearly all if not all the contracts. All the matters on which O. B. Judd is contracts. All the matters on which O. B. Juda is now making the grossest perversions were fully known to him while he was a member of the Committee on Versions and while he was a reviser. And no one of them ever received a word of censure from him until he was removed from the Committee on Versions and had his salary stopped as a reviser. This is a sufficient answer to his perverted and searchlost remulates. and scandalous pamphlet.

J. says, "again we ask, are these documents genune?" That is his business, and he should have been able to answer the question before he commenced puffing Judd's pamphlet. He has made himself a party to all the crimes, falsities, and slanderous outrages of Judd's pamphlet, and it is his business to show that the documents are genume. And, if he will undertake that under his own name, we'll promise to show him the character of Judd's docu-

His feet have been swift to assail the character of men of the highest respectability and worth men of the highest respectability and worth, and now he does not know whether the documents are genuine! Wisdom may die when he dies, but honesty and a love of truth may survive his death .-If this panderer to wickedness, malice, revenge, hatred, and all other Satanic graces, who has made himself the partner of O. B. Judd in his vices, will come out over his own name and endorse any one of O. B. Judd's malicious and revengeful statements, we promise to make him regret the hour he fell into such company. And we now say to J., in all seriousness, and with the revelations of the Holy Spirit blesies of the property that we consider his present ousness, and with the revelations of the Holy Spirit blazing in our memory, that we consider his present business utterly disgraceful to a man calling himself a clergyman, especially in view of his recently insulting response to a polite and courteous request of a public body, before whom, if his ability were as strong as his malice and his desire for revenge, he might have said something on revision. He did not then desire "to play a part," but that would have been gentlements of the part has chosen "to have been gentlements". manly compared with the part he has ch

If he feels that he was defeated in the public discussion on the subject of revision, this is a shabby way to show it; and we now say to him significantly, that, if he again reappears as our anonymous assailant, we shall address our answer to him personally. We shall close this anonymous game, and expose its author.

INFIDELITY AND MURDER .- A correspondent of the Cincinnati Times, writing from Cairo, Illinois, dated June 1, gives the following details of the infidelity of a wife, and a subsequent desperate conflict and murder:

I hasten to transmit to you the particulars of one of the most terrible events our community has ever witnessed. A man named John Gallagher has been living here for some two months, boarding in one of the flat-boat tayerns which still infest our levee. the flat-boat taverns which still infest our levee. Some time ago he sent for his wife, whom he left in your city, and it appears that on her trip down she made the acquaintance of the watchman of the steamer, and consented to run away with him to St. Louis, where he should get ready to take her.—Yesterday morning Gallagher heard of this, and immediately applied to Judge Cochran for advice.—The Judge told him he had better take his child, and let his unworthy woman go, without making a fuss let his unworthy woman go, without making a fuss about it. This Gallagher concluded to do. His wife heard of it, and she called a man named Enoch McPherson, who is from Covington, Kentucky, and McPherson, who is from Covington, Kentucky, and who, having a raft of lumber beside the floating boarding house, had made her acquaintance, to assist her in retaining her child.

Gallagher took away his baggage, and returned last evening to get his child. He had picked the little one up, and was leaving with it, when McPherson said, "G—d d—n you, let that child be or I will cut you all to pieces." Gallagher paid no attention to him, and was still moving off, when McPherson plunged a knife into him, but a short dispance above his heart. McPherson, having committed tance above his heart. McPherson, having committed this bloody deed, ran. Gallagher pulled out a revolver this bloody deed, ran. Gallagher pulled out a revolver and fired. He shot McPherson three times, once in the arm and twice in the back. McPherson, finding it impossible to escape, wheeled, and, approaching Gallagher, gave him a blow which knocked him into the river. Gallagher swam to the raft, a distance of 20 feet, came out, and both parties drawing their knives, went at each other. They fought full ten minutes, lacerating each other dreadfully. A number of bystanders looked on, and were so terrified that none dare to interfere. Among the observfied that none dare to interfere. Among the observ-ers was Mrs. Gallagher, who looked coolly upon the whole transaction without evincing the least emotion. The bloody contest was at last ended. Gallagher succeeded in plunging his knife clear through McPherson's heart, and he fell at his feet a dead

McPherson's heart, and he fell at his feet a dead man, without even uttering a groan.

Gallagher was taken into custedy. He is cut and hacked dreadfully, and this morning his recovery is considered doubtful. The coroner held an inquest last night over the body of McPherson and the jury returned a verdict implicating Gallagher in the charge of murder. This proceeding is said to have been a complete burlesque. Gallagher has have been a complete burlesque. Gallagher has consequently been removed to jail. As soon as he has had his examination I will furnish you with the details and the result. This affair has caused a gloom here, so dreadful are the details of this trag-

THE U. S. FRIGATE NIAGARA. - A letter from London to the New York Herald says:

It is not unlikely that after all we shall not take any of the cable on board, as it has been found that to fit our ship for its reception and the process of paying it out would require not only a large expenditure of money, but would so damage the vessel as to render her almost unfit for naval service. Under these circumstances, her Commander, Captain Hudson, would not, of course, consider himself justified in allowing the alterations to be made which titied in allowing the alterations to be made which it is said are necessary to the complete success of the undertaking. In addition to this there is another obstacle which renders the difficulty in this instant almost insuperable. Lying at a distance of a mile and a half from the factory we would be obliged to anchor in the middle of the river, where it is deepest and where we would be at least two hundred yards from the shore, and as the cable would have to be taken over this before it could be coiled on board of our vesse!, it would be impossible to do this without bridging the distance with lighters or some temout bridging the distance with lighters or some temporary structure. This could be done, but it would obstruct the navigation of the river, and would also arouse the opposition of the commercial classes of Liverpool. All these circumstances have been con-sidered, and the Atlantic Telegraph Company have arrived at the conclusion to dispense with the services of the Niagara in any other capacity than that of an escort, and have resolved, on the ground of economy, to charter a steamer in her place, which they can accomplish at an outlay of £15,000 ($75,-

ARREST OF A MAIL ROBBER IN CHARLESTON .- The Charleston Evening News of the 30th says:

The man who robbed the post-office at Huntsville, Ala., was arrested in this city yesterday by Officer Hicks, and half of the stolen money recovered. He has been committed to jail, where he will await the requisition of the Governor of Alabama.

TO CONSUMPTIVE INVALIDS. DR. FLOWER.

CRADUATE of the City University of New York, associate of the late Professor and Lecturer to the Hunterian Institute, and Hospital Physician, London, England, has taken rooms on Fifth street, five doors from the Kentucky School of Medicine, between Green and Walnut, Louisville, Ky., where he may be consulted daily for Consumption, Asthma, Loss of Voice, Bronchitis. Chronic Couph, and Pulmonary Irritation, also for Dyspepsia and Female Complainty, and other affections connected with or predisposing to Consumption, till June 20th, 1857.

Dr. Flower wishes it distinctly understood, that, although he considers Consumption a curable disease, and reats it as such, he does not pretend to cure those who have neither lungs nor constitution left. He would also add that he is accustomed to tell those applying their real situation and none need apply who are unwilling to learn the truth, A curative treatment will of course only be undertaken in cases where there seems some chance of remedy. Where there is none, the treatment must be merely palliative.

The treatment employed is the breathing of Medicated Vapors into the Lungs, thus producing an action at the very seat of disease, combined with constitution temedies. As Dr. F.'s stay is limited, all who intend to consult him should do so at once. For the last five years Dr. F. has devoted his entire time to the treatment of of the above diseases.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared onstrictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave. Because of its great success in most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here at d there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them. I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

of active wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in itseffect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new leather and vigor in the system.

NOTICE.—Whoever expects to find this a beverage will be disappointed; but to the cick, weak, and low spirited it will prove a grateful aromatic cordial, possessed of singular remedial properties.

CAUTION.

The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Be not persuaded to buy anything else until you have given Boerhave's Holland Bitters a fair trial. One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to all these imitations.

ARRIVAL OF GEN. WALKER AND SUITE .- The distinguished hero of the Nicaraguan war, Gen. Wm. Walker, accompanied by three of his most prominent followers, Cols. Lockridge and Waters, and Capt. Fayssoux, arrived in the city this morning on the steamer Woodford. The General is the guest of Mr. Lawrence Richardson, who married his sister. The other fillibuster chiefs are at the Galt House. Col. Lockridge is well known in connection with his famous and unsuccessful mission up the San Juan river. Col. Waters had command during the protracted siege of Granada, and since then has been with the General-in-chief. Capt. Fayssoux was commander of the schooner Granada, and performed several feats of valor with that small vessel, which was afterwards taken poesession of by Capt. Davis, of the U.S. Navy.

These gentlemen naturally attracted much attention, and the Galt House was continually thronged with persons anxious to see men who had undergone so many changes of fortune, and who had braved and endured so many perils. The officers are men of much apparent intelligence, and are decidedly prepossessing in mien-anything, in fact, but such ruffians as fillibusters are according to the popular notion.

We have heard some remarks concerning a demonstration in behalf of Gen. Walker during his sojourn here. He leaves for Washington to-morrow. author of Zaidee.

A slight rise in the Upper Mississippi has caused the river to swell a little at this point. The Illinols is in fair beating order, and about stationary. The Missouri is falling, with from only 3½ to 4 feet on the bars. The weather is cloudy and exces i rely warm. A large number of the excursionists, including members of the press from different sections of the country, and the Council of Clacinnati, left yesterday on a visit to Keokuk. Y., Harris, of Md., Phelps, of Mass., Judge Ellis, of Ind., Corry, of Ohio, Loomis, of Pa., and Whyte, of Md.

TELEGRAPHING THROUGH WATER.—I have seen several articles in the Intelligencer and other papers, from Europeans and Americans, claiming an origi-nalty in their success in this experiment. As every thing connected with the subject has peculiar inter-able to produce nothing in this way of use to man-kind, and the hot weather coming on, when electri-cal experiments are not so agreeable, it is proposed cal experiments are not so agreeable, it is proposed to put an end to them for the season, somewhat humorously, in a party of pleasure on the banks of the Schuylkill. Spirits at the same time are to be fired by a spark sent from side to side through the river, without any other conductor than the water; an experiment which we some time since performed to the amazament of the pays. A turkey is to be an experiment which we some time since performed to the amazement of the navy. A turkey is to be killed for our dinner by the electric shock, and roasted by the electric jack, before a fire kindled by the electrified bottle; when the health of all the famous electrician of England, Holland, France, and Germany are to be drank in electrified bumpers, under a discharge of guns from the electrical battery."

WASHINGTON, June 4, 1857.

The latest intelligence from Utah, received here to-day, is that Brigham Young has expelled all the Gentiles, and that his sway is now effectually undisputed in the Territory. He has had time to make all his arrangements for the reception of the United States Government Gentiles, who are to go out as Governor, Judges, &c., and also the small army of two thousand Gentiles, under the command of Gentarney. It is not true that Col. Cummins has accepted the office of Governor upon some conditions. The office is offered to him, but his answer has not been received.

The letter of the Secretary of State to the British Minister, in reply to the communication proposing a renewal of the negotiations in regard to Central American matters, was, it is said, completed last week, and was probably delivered to the minister on Monday. It is understood that General Cass takes a full view of the subject, and declines further negotiations at present, but leaves a door open for future arrangements.—Cor. Balt. Sun.

The Josephine. - The Josephine is the newest article of female attire, and is somewhat like a shanghai coat. It makes the wearer resemble the comet-little body and tremendous tail. The upper stor little body and tremendous tail. The upper story of the Josephine squeezes the lady into nothing, and of the Josephine squeezes the lady into nothing, and the lower tier expands her into the size of a haystack. The wearer of this garment spreads over an indefinite area of hoops, and is little more, as compared with the expanse of dimity she drags along, than the cork is to the bottle. She seems to be stuck into the dress for the purpose of holding its different and incongruous parts together, and enabling the whole apparatus to move along. There is a good deal of benevolence at the bottom of the present fashions. The ladies, aware of their powers of attraction, know that, if they did not make themselves ridiculous by outlandish and shapeless garments, their charms would be too powerful, and garments, their charms would be too powerful, and might lead mankind into all sorts of eccentricities.

THE BOOT AND SHOE TRADE, &c .- The Boston Travel-

of Friday has the following:

The Boot and Shoe Trade, &c.—The Boston Traveler of Friday has the following:

The past month has been the dullest the boot and shoe trade has experienced for many years. Many causes have operated to bring this about, among which may be noted the almost entire cessation of the California trade, which has not been over one-third as much for the last three months as in any corresponding time for the last three months as in any corresponding time for the last three years, the poor collections in the West, which have discouraged the jobbers in the western cities from giving their years, and last, though not least, the very high prices, which always produce stagnation in trade. We begin to see the end in the rapid fall of the raw material. (Hides worth 37c per pound two months since cannot now be sold at over 30. Sole leather, which was in great demand at 32 to 35c, is a drug at 25 to 26c) Manufacturers, finding they were not receiving orders, have stopped, and the consequence is that in ten weeks there is an accumulation of sole leather in New York of from one hundred to two hundred thousand sides, and the amount is increasing daily. Nearly three hundred thousand hides lie in the importers' warehouses in New York, Boston, and Salem, the accumulation of two or three months.

Those who thought hides were going to fifty cents per pound, and were looking about for India rubber and felt substitutes, will begin to see that the world still moves on, and that supply will follow demand. This month opens dail, as the past, and manufacturers who have continued along, begin to feel freat anxiety to make sales, and ar. offering great inducements to purchasers in the way of long time, in hope to save themselves from loss in the fall of goods. Our advice is rather to hold on, for it is better to make the first loss than the second; better to lessen the price than to take a dividend on an insolvent estate. No sound buver wishes for more than eight months, as a general thing, as he knows he must pay a heavy interest for the extensi

The story of $250,000, mace by a New York house on an import of 10,000 tons of Manilla sugar, which has had a free airing in all the public prints, is altogether a fiction, according to a well informed correspondent of the loston Traveller; no such import having taken place. All the Manilla sucar that has arrived in the United States for twelve months past scarcely equals 10,000 tons, and the largest export from Manilla up to 1856, in any one year to all places, was 40,000 tons; the average of seven years was only about 20,000 tons per year.

Horse Stealing in Mexico Punished in Texas .- The Brownsville Flag has the following item:

At the term of the District Court lately held at At the term of the District Court lately held at Rio Grande City, Juan Garzia, alias Sarten, was tried on an indictment under the new Criminal Code for stealing a horse in Mexico and bringing it into Texas. He was found guilty and sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the State penitentiary.

This is the first conviction had on the Rio Grande for such an offence, and we have no doubt that a series of such convictions will materially add in competitions of the such convictions will materially add in competitions.

ries of such convictions will materially aid in cementing the good feeling now so happily existing between us and our neighbors.

The Correspondencia Autografa, Spanish paper, contains the following curious announcement:

"Yesterday, at five in the afternoon, took place in the royal apartments the ceremony of placing the nail possessed by the Chapel Royal—one of those which suspended Jesus Christ—in the magnificent and unequalled reliquary that Her Majesty the Queen has had constructed to replace that which was stolen when on the 27th of May of last year the most stolen when on the 27th of May of last year the most holy nail disappeared. The ceremony commenced by the benediction of the reliquary by the Patriarch of the Indies. The reliquary being afterwards placed in the oratory of the same royal habitation, the Patriarch returned to the Chapel, and with all the clergy and music of the same conducted the holy nail in procession to the royal apartment, where their Majesties, with Her Royal Highness, the Princess of the Asturias, and the Infanta Donna Christina, were waiting upon their knees, with the chief officers were waiting upon their knees, with the chief officers of the Palace, &c. The music played the prayers which the Church possesses even for such unusual cases as this, and, the procession having reached the Royal Chamber, the holy nail was placed in the new reliquery, and the officiating divine offered for adoration this inestimable instrument of our redemand. ration this inestimable instrument of our redemp tion, their Majesties adoring it first. Many persons of those present in the Chapel also adored it, and it was subsequently deposited in the sacred place, where it is to be preserved, in spite of sacrilegious hands, for the greater honor and glory of God."

[From the London Times (city article), May 21.] Another developement in connection with the speculative mania in Paris has taken place. The stoppage of M. Charles Thurneyssen, a banker and share dealer, with debts variously stated at an amount equal to from £800,000 to £1,000,000, has included the property of the state of th just been communicated, and also his departure for America. The chief sufferers, it appears, consist of persons who had deposited money and securities in his hands, some of the principal Polish families resident in Paris having trusted him with extraordinary amounts. One instance of the kind is alleged in which the sum is more than £300,000. It is said that M. Thurpays and the thing the the Luited which the sum is more than £300,000. It is said that M. Thurneyssen left Paris en route to the United States on Thursday evening last, and it is consequently inferred that he sailed by the Arabia, which left Liverpool on Saturday. M. Thurneyssen is a nephew of the well known banker of the same name, who is one of the promoters of the Russian Railway Company. His family is also nearly connected with that of M. Isaac Pereire, and it was probably from the influence of these circumstances that he contrived to acquire his credit. It was exactly at this time last year that the failure of M. Place, one of the directors of the Credit Mobilier, was announced the directors of the Credit Mobilier, was announced on the Bourse, also for £800,000; and, looking at the facts in both cases, the question is unavoidably sug-gested as to how far the unsoundness at this moment extends. The cause for surprise is the magnitude of the liabilities that can thus be contracted without engendering notice or suspicion. Not a fortnight has elapsed since the Credit Mobilier affirmed that its position was that of a sentinel over the healthy development of French enterprise. Are its directors still certain that they are competent to the functions they have assumed?

IMPORTANT DECISION AGAINST THE POWER OF THE ROMISH BISHOPS.—Judge Welles, of the New York Supreme Court, has decided against the claim of a Roman Catholic Bishop to hold all the church property in this diocese against the rights of the lo-cal societies or their immediate representatives. The particulars of the case are as follows:

particulars of the case are as follows:

"In the year 1851, the trustees of St. Peter's Society, in Rochester, brought a suit against John Timon, Bishop of Buffalo, and others, to recover their church property, then held in fee by the Bishop. Some forty days were occupied in taking evidence before the referees, as to the spiritual and legal powers of the Catholic clergy and the force of the canons of the church. It was then argued before Justice Selden decided all the points save one in favor of the den decided all the points save one in favor of the plaintiffs. A new argument was had in June, 1856, before Justice Welles, who has just decided in fa-vor of the plaintiffs throughout. Thus the trustees vor of the plaintiffs throughout. Thus the trustees hold the temporalities of the church by the law, and against the canons. This is a gratifying result, as showing that the power of the Romish hierarchy is not to be exerted by a priesthood directly possessed of an enormous estate. It would have been humiliating if, in the Protestant State of New York, the priesthood should possess powers recently stripped. nating if, in the Protestant State of New York, the priesthood should possess powers recently stripped from them in Mexico, and for many years denied them in other Catholic countries. This decision bears directly on the point in issue between Bishop O'Regan of the Chicago diocese and Father Chiniquy, the good priest of St. Anne's, whom the Bishop has suspended."—Rochester paper.

According to the diary of a college divinity student, who went from Boston to Newark, N. J., an hundred years ago, the first article in his list of provisions for the voyage was "five quarts West India Rum." Yet he was certified by his letters of recommendation to be a young man of piety and learning, "for ye work of ye ministry," and was doubtless as worthy in all respects as if the expense had been for whisky skins, put down under the cautious head of "incidentals" (Instdeentals), or the equally evasive caption of "sundries."
